Contactless Service Options

Unattended Booking

After the first initial booking customers have the option to give access to the home to complete the booking unattended. (can be done in person or remotely, through a hideaway key, or key pad). The chef will lock up after the booking is complete.

This makes a great opportunity for you to run errands or have a family outing during the booking time. After you are acquainted with the booking process this is a great option to consider.

Separation Method

With this option customers will let the chef in-person or remotely. The family would stay in separate rooms or areas in the home other than the kitchen for the duration of the booking. The chef will lock up after the booking.

This option is great for customers working from home.
